

MITCHELL-HUBBERT

Harry B. Mitchell, of Dallas, Tex., and Miss Agnes Hubbert, daughter of Guy Hubbert, of this city, were united in marriage Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Hubbert, on East Main street.

The bride is a beautiful and highly accomplished girl, well known here and very popular with her hosts of friends. For the past two years she has made her home with Mr. and Mrs. Horace Miller, of Monett, Mrs. Miller being her aunt.

The groom is a substantial and well known business man of Dallas, being a wholesale broker and dealer in cigars.

The wedding was solemnized by Rev. J. W. Cunningham, pastor of the First Christian church of this city, and the beautiful ring ceremony was used.

The decorations of the home were very beautiful and elaborate indeed. About ninety guests were present, being the special friends of the bride and the neighbors of the Hubbert family.

Those from out of town were as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Osborn, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Frear, Mrs. Willis Lehnard, Mrs. Henry Tutt, Tom Tutt, Mrs. George Morrow and Miss Dorothy Morrow, of Monett.

Mrs. Earl Calloway, of Indianapolis, Ind.

Miss Helen Lehnard, of Carthage.

Misses Eva Walbridge and Mabel Brooks, of Kansas City, who are guests of Mrs. S. L. Davis.

Mrs. S. L. Davis, of Kansas City.

Robert Mitchell, of Dallas, Tex., brother of the groom.

James Tatum, of Anderson; Oscar Price, U. S. Navy, Judge and Mrs. Chas. L. Henson, of Mt. Vernon.

The wedding march was played by Lewis Wills, and a beautiful and appropriate song was sung by Miss Lura Price.

The couple received more than 100 beautiful presents.

Many telegrams of congratulations were also received from friends in the South and West, and a special telegram of congratulations and best wishes from Hon. and Mrs. Scott Ferris, of Washington, D. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell left here Saturday evening for Dallas, and will reside in that city.—Neosho Democrat.

Increase production, economize in consumption, lend your savings to the government and hold your Liberty Bonds.

BIG CROWD WITNESSES PAGEANT AT M. E. CHURCH

The pageant given at the Methodist church Sunday evening was much enjoyed. At the beginning of the service Mrs. Kines and Miss Carnes sang "The Master's Service First."

In the pantomime, "America's Expenditures," Mrs. Horton represented America and sixteen little girls represented our great expenditures, showing the amount of money raised for tobacco, candy, liquor, jewelry, millinery, etc., in contrast to that given for home and foreign missions.

Mrs. Horton gave her part very impressively, and each of the girls was at her best.

Mrs. Carrithers sang "Give Us Your Christ."

There were 48 characters in the pageant, "The Torch Bearers."

America and the representative of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society stood on the platform as the Angels of Light, each bearing a lighted candle and a Bible, marched in and formed a semi-circle at the back of the platform. An invisible choir sang the "Angel Song" as a procession.

Following them came the women and children of the nations and took places at the front.

Mrs. King represented the W. F. M. S. and introduced the nations, India, Japan, China and the Moslem world, Mrs. Shriver sang "He Was Not Willing."

As the choir sang "The Kingdom Is Coming," each angel presented her Bible to a woman of the nations and, taking her hand, led her away by the light of her torch.

The dimly lighted room, the Angels of Light in their soft, white dresses with the lighted candles, and the women and children in bright colored costumes made a beautiful and impressive scene.

To those who have studied about these people, and their groping for the light which our Christ has commissioned us to send to them, the service was of especial interest.

The liberal offering for missionary work showed the interest of those who witnessed the pageant.

The Missionary Society wishes to thank those who took part, the choir and all who contributed.

MONETT CITIZENS TO HELP HARVEST WHEAT

Harvest time is at hand in this section and there is an alarming scarcity of farm help. The wheat cannot be harvested unless more help is sent to the country, and it is up to the townsmen to go to the rescue.

The Monett Commercial club, acting with Farm Help Division Director E. A. O'Dwyer, will make an effort to supply the need in this vicinity. The Commercial club will meet tonight to make arrangements for securing help.

In many towns the business men, who cannot leave their business for a whole day, go to the country each afternoon and work from 3:30 o'clock until 9 o'clock, for a wage to be agreed upon between the employer and employee.

Many of our business men were farm boys and though they are at present unaccustomed to farm work, would soon be able to make a good hand.

Some early fields of wheat are now being cut and the time to act is today. Any loitering may result in the loss of a part of the crop which is most vital to the world in the great war crisis at hand.

Our citizens are urged to sacrifice business and pleasure for the next few weeks and go to the help of our loyal farmers who have responded to the call of the nation to plant food-stuff to feed the world.

THE BEAUTIFUL LANGUAGE

"This amount includes a fine of 15,000 pesetas imposed on the Alsatian children who insist on speaking the French language and refuse to study the beautiful German language."

Possibly this quotation from a German document contains a hint that could be used to advantage by this country. Those who consider the "beautiful German language" superior to the American language and persist in teaching it to their children and making it the language of their homes, churches and schools should not object to paying something for the privilege. Such families usually extol the methods and practices of Germany as compared with this country, and should not object to paying a tax for the privilege of using a language other than the language of the country, since that is the way Germany handles a similar situation.—Successful Farming.

Rev. Wm. McCormack, pastor of the Grace M. E. church, at Springfield, has received leave of absence from his church to go to France for work under the direction of the Y. M. C. A. He will leave Springfield about the first of August.

AMERICAN WOMEN USUALLY LOAFERS

Struggle Along in High-Heeled Shoes, Unable to Work, Says Dr. Esther Lovejoy.

Chicago, June 10.—American women, speaking generally, were declared to be loafers, "struggling along in high-heeled shoes and unable to work if they wanted to," by Dr. Esther Lovejoy, former health commissioner of Portland, Ore., in an address to the Medical Women's National Association today.

"While the women of France and England are staggering along 'over there' under the awful loads imposed by the war, the women of America are going about in high-heeled shoes wanting to be entertained by the story of the conflict," she said.

Dr. Lovejoy, who has just returned from a six months' visit to France, declared the women of Germany made possible the progress of the war, "for," she said, "if the women of Germany had laid down their arms and ceased doing the work of the men, the war would have been over long since."

"If the women of America would wear winter clothing in winter, there would be no call for fuelless Mondays, and this is one of the ways in which the women of America can help win the war. But no, they sit around in clothing fit only for the hot dog days and burn tons of coal to keep them warm, thus wasting coal to preserve the dictates of fashion."

"It is up to the women of America to rouse the United States to stop the Hun invasion. Then we will have no loafers among the men or women either. We've got to realize that this war is a painful thing and face it as such."

THE TEACHERS' PRODUCT

It is with pride that anyone surveys the work of his hands. The farmer shows you his cornfield with swelling satisfaction. The manufacturer handles over his shoes and his cotton goods with triumph in the success of his craftsmanship. We applaud these men for their contribution to the country. But some of those who are producing the largest results in our civic life get but little recognition.

At this season of school graduations, the center of interest is the bright-faced classes of graduates, with their hope and achievements. Quietly sitting in the background are the teachers, whose achievement is often forgotten.

It takes the mental stimulus of an alert teacher of high ideals to give the young folks a good start. Otherwise it is just dull droning of lessons learned by memory out of books. The teacher who has sent out at this season a group of young people full of ambition and with habits of industry fixed, has turned out a product more important than any corn, shoes or cotton goods.—Springfield Republican.

RED CROSS ACTIVITIES

Three boxes are being packed with surgical dressings today, ready for shipment.

The workers at the Monett work room Tuesday afternoon made 200 2x2 wipes and a large number of pneumonia jackets.

Last Thursday was a splendid day in the Red Cross work room. The attendance was good, but there is room for many more.

Chas. Frear and J. W. Bingham made three standard size shipping boxes for the Monett Chapter, using the lumber donated by the Salzer and Coleman lumber companies.

Tuesday was a record day at the work room. Forty-one workers registered and a number of visitors were present. The Monett Chapter has made an excellent record ever since the organization.

The Red Cross Chapter received a shipment of five bolts of muslin and patterns for refugee garments and helpless-case shirts Monday from headquarters.

Mrs. W. H. Chitwood, chairman of Lawrence county, will go to Freistatt Thursday evening to give instruction in knitting. The Freistatt branch has secured a large shipment of yarn and the women and girls are anxious to get to work knitting sweaters.

If Dr. Esther Lovejoy, who said all women were loafers, should visit the Monett Red Cross work room, she would modify her statements a little. Monett women do their own housework and find time to do Red Cross work and take time to help in every patriotic drive which is made.

A number of portable houses have been built by the American Red Cross on loaned ground near Paris and sold on easy terms to refugee families. When the war is over, the family can take its house with it to replace a home shattered by a shell.

The Red Cross is an organization which existed long before war was declared, and will exist long after it is over, for the relief of all manner of human suffering, and the work for refugees is as much a part of the Red Cross work as the work for the wounded soldier.

Mrs. Bingham says that the making of refugee garments appeals to her as showing more real charity than making the soldiers' garments. When sewing for the soldiers we feel that we are working for our own. When making the refugee garments we are working for others with no hope of gain.

There was a large attendance of girls at the work room Monday and they worked diligently making shot bags and winding strings for tying packages of completed articles. Mrs. Bingham expects to put the girls to work making refugee garments in a short time. They enter into the work enthusiastically and accomplish a great deal when they go to the work room.

As you read the list of workers day by day, you notice that the names of some of these women appear each time. They are to be commended for the faithful service they are giving. There are many other Monett women who have no more home duties than these faithful ones and they should follow their example and work a few days every week. The work is interesting and the social feature is most pleasant.

Those who registered at the work room Monday were Mesdames B. P. McCaslin, Chas. Frear, C. E. Whitlatch, M. L. Ingram, R. B. Kyler, Ed Salzer, L. D. McKee, Clyde Gustin, Fred Kennedy, Herron Westbay, C. A. Martin, C. A. Blakemore, B. A. Beckham, Chas. Mansfield, Carl Saxe, O. H. Hudson, W. D. Steele, E. W. Pfau and J. W. Bingham, Misses Pauline Gabriel, Ruth Cox, Fay Baum, Hazel Caughron, Frieda West, Ruth Sizer, Ruth Watson, Grace Mooney, Rose Smith, Pauline Mansfield and Ruth Robinson.

Those who registered at the work room Tuesday were Mesdames B. P. McCaslin, Chas. Frear, C. E. Whitlatch, M. L. Ingram, A. M. Peel, Hal Kirk, Frank De Groat, M. C. Shipley, L. D.
